Performance introduction

Performance management is about the delivery of the goals of an organisation and its community. It needs much more than just back office systems, processes, plans and indicators. Successful performance management needs leaders, managers and employees to see their purpose to continually improve what they do - and the services they provide to their communities.

Performance management must add value. In order to do this the processes employed must achieve the right balance between effort and results.

Performance management is central to the political process – performance information is reported regularly to Scrutiny and Cabinet Committees.

The Performance Management Framework recognises that improvement comes from people and process, and that the framework will not operate without employee awareness.

It will be about positive endorsement, continuous improvement, innovation and creativity.

In particular, the processes should emphasize the significance of performance management for enabling service improvement, and build links into other improvement processes - and into training and development.

Effective performance management:

1. Is being clear about the purpose of the Council
2. Has a strong emphasis on achieving outcomes
3. Has robust and effective planning systems which ensure the allocation of resources follow service demands
4. Monitors delivery against clear targets and acts upon them
5. Minimises the risk of serious error

Additionally our political and administrative leadership makes performance a priority, and the clear vision motivates, enthuses and empowers employees – an organisation that has a culture that is enabling and empowering.

Purpose and aim of the framework

The purpose and aim of our Performance Management Framework is to make sure we deliver:

- the right services
- at the right time
- in the right way
- value for money

Our Performance Management Framework sets out how we put this into practice:

- providing an overview of the steps to be taken, followed by a brief explanation of each
- summarising Member and Officer performance management roles and responsibilities
- listing reporting arrangements for various Council and Partnership plans and strategies

Our Performance Management Framework follows the sequence of:

Plan → Do → Review

Plan means being clear about what we are setting out to achieve and how we are going to achieve it

Do means putting our plans into action in the most efficient and effective way

Review means monitoring results to ensure that we:

- achieve what was planned and to the agreed standard
- can compare our performance with other service providers and with our own past achievements to show trends
- have relevant and timely information to feed back into the process
- can inform stakeholders accordingly

Performance management is the responsibility of everyone in the Council. A summary of the key roles and responsibilities of Officers and Councillors is set out below:

Performance reporting process

The Council will make decisions on the priorities, risks, activities, ownership, targets and measures necessary to meet the needs of South Lakeland. This process involves a 'Plan Do Review' approach with six steps. These steps are Vision, Planning, Commitment, Action, Monitoring and Review – and are detailed below.

1. Vision

Performance management begins with a clear vision. The Council's corporate vision is contained in the current Council Plan. The vision is underpinned by our agreed values, which influence the way we work. The vision lies at the heart of everything we do.

2. Planning

The Council's priorities are set out in the Council Plan and are informed by the Council's approach to service delivery

The Council must focus on how we and our partners can achieve positive outcomes for our communities - to improve their quality of life and the services we provide for them.

When planning, the Council must ensure it understands South Lakeland, our communities and their needs based on a detailed knowledge of key demographic data, customer satisfaction and perceptions.

As a Community Leader, the Council should engage with and share information, where applicable, with partners particularly the Cumbria Local Enterprise Partnership, the Health and Wellbeing Board, Parish and Town Councils and Community Groups.

We must also be aware of available resources, anticipated risks and levels of current performance when setting priorities and developing Plans.

The Council's services are delivered through plans and strategies at all levels, both independently and in partnership with other service providers and provide a link between our high-level Vision and strategic priorities and team and individual performance.

3. Commitment

The priorities for South Lakeland are set at the highest level. These priorities are not only supported by the Council's strategic and operational plans but also individual employee appraisals. Managing employees' performance is a continuous process.

It involves making sure that the performance of employees contributes to the goals of their teams and the business as a whole. Performance monitoring which includes risk management activity ensures that the key priorities are met.

Organisational commitment is demonstrated through the allocation of responsibilities and resources.

Members' responsibilities are set out in the Council's Constitution.

Officers' responsibilities are contained in the Constitution, Job Descriptions and annual appraisals.

Ownership of responsibility is further supported by:

- The Personal Qualities Framework links organisational targets and actions with those of individual employees
- Commitment to training and development through the Corporate Training Programme and Training Budget

Financial resources are allocated to the Council's Priorities through the Medium Term Financial Strategy and annual Revenue and Capital Budgets. Resources provided by other bodies are secured through external funding bids.

Commitments towards achieving South Lakeland and Cumbria Strategy priorities are demonstrated through membership of Boards, Task Groups and Officer Working Groups.

4. Action

Council will implement plans at strategic, operational and individual levels by:

Working across boundaries

We will meet the needs of the communities, work with our partners to deliver regional growth and improve wellbeing. Supported by the following documents and measures of success within the Local Plan, Economic Growth Strategy, Public Health Strategy.

Creating balanced communities

Deliver affordable homes to meet need, create opportunities for young people and improve quality of life. Supported by the following documents and measures of success within Housing Strategy, Older Persons Housing Strategy, Affordable Housing Policy, Economic Growth Strategy, Children and Young Peoples' Action plan and the Customer Connect Programme.

Reducing inequalities

Improve existing housing and reduce homelessness, deliver inclusive growth so everyone can achieve their potential and reduce disadvantage. This is supported by the following documents and measures of success within the Homelessness Strategy, Local Plan, Empty Homes Strategy, Community Safety Partnership, Air Quality Action Plan and Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Strategy.

Sustainable environment and inclusive economy

Building resilience, growing a green economy and taking action on climate change. These are supported by the following documents and measures of success within the Housing Strategy, Older Persons Housing Strategy, Affordable Housing Policy, Economic Growth Strategy, Customer Connect Programme and the Climate Change Policy.

Measures of success

Strategy will set measures and monitor activity.

Performance management will allow consistency and better access to information regarding ownership, service activity and measures, and to improve monitoring and reporting procedures including the management of complaints received; service planning and projects.

Every stage of the performance management process relies on evidence and data to allow the organisation to make judgments on what South Lakeland and the Council's needs are; what its customers' needs are; what it has achieved and how it compares. It is vital that data is high quality, reliable, and timely. As part of a rolling programme of scorecard review, regular assurance checks will be carried out and reported to Members and Officers.

Financial Management

Financial Management covers all financial accountabilities in relation to the running of the Council, including the policy framework and budget.

All Members and Officers have a duty to abide by the highest standards of probity in dealing with financial issues.

This is facilitated by ensuring everyone is clear about the standards to which they are working and the controls that are in place to ensure that these standards are met. The Corporate Finance Update report is presented to advise Members of the financial position of the Council each quarter and explanations of variances are provided.

The report is presented to Members. The report summarises the General Fund revenue and capital positions with monitoring updates for large and volatile costs and income, approved savings, Treasury Management, Revenue Collection and Sundry and Long term debtors.

The Corporate Finance Update report includes the following areas:

1. Revenue Budget monitoring
2. Budget Savings monitoring
3. Capital Budget monitoring
4. Treasury Management review

Personal Qualities Framework

It is important to ensure that all employees are aware of how the Personal Qualities Framework and performance appraisal 'fits' with the Performance Management Framework. In terms of the hierarchy of strategic and business planning the performance appraisal process sits as follows:

1. Council Plan
2. Operational level plans
3. Personal Qualities Framework

The above plans are aspirational i.e. they are the statement of either new objectives or an intention to improve service/performance on existing objectives. Therefore individual performance appraisals will reflect this i.e. the performance objectives will be about implementing new services, improving existing services, reducing cost etc. The Personal Qualities Framework also includes two other factors, Personal Qualities and Development.

Personal Qualities reflects the way in which employees conduct themselves and the manner in which business is undertaken. Adherence to these qualities will support the successful pursuit of objectives. Development acknowledges that for employees at all levels there will be gaps between current performance and target performance which cannot be addressed by additional resources or new technology but by enhancing the skills, knowledge and confidence of the post-holder.

Performance Appraisals are not the only corporately supported performance/communication mechanisms available. For line managers performance appraisals form part of a tripartite employee management portfolio.

- Performance Appraisal
- Team Meetings
- One to One's (1-2-1's)

Managers and employees need to be able to differentiate between the aims and content of the various meetings.

1-2-1's between managers and employees should be conducted on a regular basis and are an opportunity to:

- Manage tasks and prioritise work
- Tackle day to day supervision and resource issues
- Monitor and evaluate incoming and outgoing work

They can also be used to visit the performance objectives and individual development needs and, where appropriate, amend/update the performance review and developmental review sections of the performance appraisal documentation.

Managers should brief their teams once a month as a minimum and should be the opportunity to:

- Communicate corporate information
- Discuss service issues

- Raise awareness of topical issues facing the Council
- Listen to ideas and discuss innovative solutions on issues facing the team, service and Council

The aim of the Personal Qualities Framework is to ensure the performance appraisal process is embedded within organisational culture and practice rather than be a stand-alone, once a year activity.

5. Review

Performance data will be collected and areas for concern identified. Areas that are not on track will be commented on by employees with ownership at weekly meetings.

6. Monitoring

Feedback and other information generated in delivering services enables us to actively monitor performance and report as necessary to Committees, management and operational teams, individuals, members of the public and external agencies. This is undertaken in accordance with the following:

Detailed information regarding costs, performance and benchmarking of services will be reported along with a value for money calculation. This will bring essential business information to decision makers – for more detail see below:

Costs

- Costs of individual services

Benefits

- Measures that show performance
- Benchmarking for comparing with other authorities

Value for Money

- Cost per head of population

Results of service performance are published internally and externally in the Council's Overview and Scrutiny Committee reports.

In addition, the Council provides employees, Members and the public with feedback on the Council's performance in a number of digestible formats. This includes the annual report of our performance over a 12 month period.

6. Review and response

Reviewing and taking corrective action are essential steps as they distinguish performance management from performance monitoring. Action taken is recorded to provide an audit trail and evidence of improvement, and could include any or all of the following:

- Reassessing the need for a particular service
- Re-designing standards, measures and targets
- Reviewing systems and processes
- Re-evaluating resource requirements

Customer feedback is used to support the review process, while benchmarking helps to set Council performance into context by comparing processes and measure results, for example when carrying out service reviews or value-for-money exercises.

Implementation of this Framework is overseen by the Corporate Management Team.
